Holly McKenna has joined us to answer a few questions:

“How did you feel when you found out that you had won?”

“Excited and happy because I was one of thousands of people to enter.”

“What was it like meeting the artist that was going to use your design?”

“He was really funny and I’m pleased that he’s going to be painting my design”

“Is there anything special on the hare that we don’t know about yet?”

“There is going to be several mini me’s on it and they will wear whatever I decide to put them in.”

“And finally, did you ever think you would win?”

“Well when I found out I was one of the top 20 I looked to see how many people had voted for me and I only had 8% so I never thought I’d win since then.”

The FOLS (friends of Lyng school) managed to arrange a visit from the charity that funded the Gogo dragons, gorillas, elephants, and now the hares. Break showed us a moon gazer hare. These are the ones that are going to be dotted around the whole of Norfolk. Our school will have its very own leveret to design, which will go on display and then be returned to the school for us to keep.

The one on the left is a moongazer and the one on the right is the one that Holly will be designing.

The Gogo hares will be around the city of Norwich and the moon gazers will be dotted around Norfolk. Hollys design will be placed outside the EDP, near the vue (cinema). The moon gazers will have about 10 different activities around them. There will be 50 different hares around Norwich, but as you may have realised ,they have skipped a year of the Gogo tradition. This is because its Break’s 50th anniversary in 2018 and they didn’t want to miss it. We all hope that Break carries on their tradition of the Gogo hares in years to come, but I think the only question left to answer , is what animal is next?
