

Dear Rowan pupils and parents,

I hope your first week back completing your home learning was a success! I have enjoyed keeping up with what you are doing at home.

Now that I am back at school, it has been good to get back into a routine! We have been looking at countries all around the world as part of our topic as in summer term all the classes would have been learning about specific areas, ours being Scandinavia. Has anybody been to any of the countries in Scandinavia before? I have been to Denmark and Sweden!

I would just like to remind you all about the letter I sent out on May 11th. In this letter, I stated additional activities you could do. Please refer to this letter for additional activities, but also remember there are many other learning opportunities beyond worksheets! I have mentioned Pinterest but there are many great ideas on there for more practical ways of learning.

Parents, I am sure you have kept up with the news of the happenings in America. If you have discussed this with your child, or if they are aware of it, now is a good time to talk to your child about diversity, acceptance and treating everybody with respect. In this week's plan, I have included a comprehension about Martin Luther King Jr; however please feel free to do further research on inspirational black and minority people. I would really like to see what you have come up with, and if you have any recommendations of books with diverse characters do let me know as I am compiling a list to use in class!

Take care everybody,

Miss Cartwright 😊
