Hello Willow Class children and parents.

Lots of you have been sending me photos of some great art work. Some has been made outside, for example some rainbows coloured with chalk or your names and patterns made out of natural materials. Other creativity has been carried out indoors, such as animal headbands, models of the savannah and even decorated t. shirts.

Some of you have been doing artwork which has been on your home learning plans whilst others have been creating their own. One of our class has made a life size sarcophagus which made it onto the museum website. I think children, you can guess who that might have been!

Art can be created using all sorts of materials. In school we even made a lion picture by painting with a fork to create the mane!

Did any of you have a go at making a natural paintbrush?

Sometimes we can get our inspiration from the work of artists and other cultures. This week enjoy finding out about the art and craft work of Africa, especially the Maasai tribe.

Maybe you could do more research into African art or make your own African inspired patterns.

Let me know if you were inspired to create!

Best wishes

Mrs Tebbutt
