Hello Willow Class parents and pupils.

It's been good to hear about all your weekly activities.

Over the last few weeks I have heard about an amazing array of activities which you have been doing. Some of them have been science based, either finding out about the world around you or even doing experiments.

If you are interested in finding out more there are plenty of ideas. Here are some possible websites to investigate:

<https://www.twinkl.co.uk/resources/science-investigation/general-investigation-resources/science-investigation-awe-and-wonder-science-activities>

<https://www.sciencefun.org/kidszone/experiments/>

If you have any suggestions or experiments you have done I would love to hear about them.

Enjoy investigating!
